

Awards boost is 'thrice' as nice for Eco2Solar

19/11/2012

Midlands's solar energy specialist Eco2Solar is carrying the torch for Kidderminster after being selected as a finalist in three separate categories of the 2013 Midlands Business Awards.

The firm, which operates in both the commercial and domestic energy markets, has made it into the final six of the contenders for the Midlands Service Provider of the Year award.

Meanwhile, managing director and founder Paul Hutchens (pictured above) is aiming to make it a double award as one of six finalists in the Midlands Entrepreneur of the Year and the Midlands Business Person of the Year categories of the awards, which are now in their seventh year.

A real boost

Mr Hutchens said, "I am delighted to be a finalist in the Midlands Business Awards and to be shortlisted for three awards is a real boost. It is a fitting recognition of the hard work put in by the whole team at Eco2Solar."

Harj Sandher, managing director of UK Special Events, the business behind the awards, said, "The quality of the entrants has grown year on year since we began them and this year has continued the trend. Our independent panel of judges has had its work cut out in shortlisting the finalists; the choice of enterprises they have selected shows how diverse the awards are in seeking out the best talent from around the region."

Awards ceremony

The names of the winners will be revealed at a gala dinner and awards ceremony on Friday 1 February 2013 at the NEC Hilton Metropole Hotel.
